EMBEDDING AN ETHOS OF STUDENT PARTNERSHIP IN AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITY DECISION MAKING – the way forward

National Senior Teaching Fellow, Professor Sally Varnham (UTS) has undertaken a sector-wide collaboration to develop an agreed set of principles for student partnership in university decisionmaking. This symposium will showcase these principles and provide opportunity for their discussion.

Cat O’Driscoll: National Student Engagement Coordinator, National Student Engagement Programme, Ireland, is our invited international speaker. Cat will be providing insights into Ireland’s higher education sector’s development of their principles for student partnership and the National Student Engagement Programme Pilot currently taking place in universities nationally.

Initiatives from around Australia will be presented by students and staff to promote the ongoing sharing of ideas and experiences. This process was identified during the fellowship workshops as an important aspect of sustainable student partnership.
